Good afternoon Dr. Gurevich,

Thank you for your patience. I do hope all is well with you.

I have gone over the analysis with Emmett and have attached to this email your requested analysis.

We are tracking data on two works Digital Protective Relays and Electronic Devices. I believe these open units to be an error in the royalty inquiry performed by the royalty clerk Stephen Kruszewski in September. I do apologize for any errors or confusion. Please let me know if I can be of any further assistance.

Kind regards,

Good afternoon Professor Gurevich,

I have been further researching your concerns, per the attached email. In the email, the statements you attached were not complete and there were a few years missing. I noted only 2004, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, and 2012 included. Also all of the documents, as sent, were missing pages. Would you mind clarifying your analysis?

Thank you.

Dr Gurevich,

I did ask Christin to take a look at the information you sent and wanted to review her findings before getting back to you. Since returning from the UK this week its been nothing but crisis planning for Covad – 19 and I haven't gotten a chance to sit with her. We are in transition of getting our staff in Boca office to home working so it may be a bit longer but I will have her reach out to you directly in the meantime to keep things moving and stay copied in on the research. Thanks for your patience.

Emmett

Dr. Gurevich,

Thanks for this info – I am traveling out of the country this week but will have Christin investigate the issues. I will be back the week of March 8th and will hopefully be able to review all her work and get back to early that week. Thanks

Emmett

Mr. Dages,

1. I have not received any clarification regarding the table sent to you at February 22 with two variants of royalties received from Royalty Department (attached).
2. I performed only a partial analysis of the documents (royalty statements) you sent me earlier and only for one book and found significant discrepancies with the documents that I have received from T & F at past period (see attachments please).

I ask you explain these differences for each document separately in addition to above mentioned table.

Thanks.

Dr. Vladimir Gurevich

2. Royalty statements variants for 2004, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2013 years.

Hi, Christin,

1. At February 29 I sent to Mr. Dages some PDF files and a table.

2. Each PDF file contains two pages. These are copies of the T&F reports that I have a long time before and T&F reports sent me recently as part of our current correspondence. Between these two pages (for same books and for same period) into each file is a significant difference. I asked to explain this difference for each file separately. What is not clear here?

3. The table contains the data sent to me by Mr. Dages and by Mr. Kruszewski, between which there is a significant difference. I asked to explain this difference. What is not clear here?

Regards,

Dr. Vladimir Gurevich

Helo, Mr. Dage and Mrs. Harrington

Thank you for your replay. Now, finally, the position of the Taylor & Francis has become completely clear. It is as follows:

1. For 231 copies of books sold by Marcel Dekker, Taylor & Francis did not pay me royalties.
2. The official representative of the Royalties Department of Taylor & Francis, Mr. Kruszewski Stephen presented me with erroneous data on book sales.
3. 153 book copies classified as "unit rentals"
4. 28 book copies classified as "open".

At summarizing up everything, Taylor & Francis did not pay me today royalties for  $231 + 153 + 28 = 412$  copies of the books.

I ask you to confirm these data.

Thanks.

Regards,

Dr. Vladimir Gurevich
